and toat they see the handwriling the wall and that nothing possible save them.

It is only necessary to look at the distration figures and then to thorefully analyze the situation. If you do you will see how absolutely impose it is for Tammany to win. The highest vote Tammany Hall ever led in a straightout fight was when bynard ran in 1893. Maynard also had advantage of a nomination from a site Democratic Convention. He polled rifle over 131,000 votes.

That was at a time when Tammany is strongest. Now, since that election, ammany, instead of gaining, has been yowing weaker day by day. Since that the strongest was been the stopping of audulent registration and voting, which, to put it down at the lowest wossible figure, will mean a loss to the immany ticket of at least 10,000 votes. The outside Democratic organizations, iich are now in existence and thorship organized in every district, mean out 40,000 votes, and the disclosures the Lexow Committee mean 10,000 ore, at the very least. Take these stes away from Maynard's figures, and an have 71,000 as the Tammany vote.

What does this abnormally ig registration for an off year mean? It certainly means that, substantially, the entire increase in registration is unit-Tammany. "But purely for the sake of argument, dmitting that Tammany Hall will get wo-thirds of the increase, which would be 30,000, added to the admitted role of 1,000, would still only leave them 101,000 it the coming election. Besides all the lacts mentioned there is another. When Iran ran before, and before his declarations were well known, he had the support of a majority of the press of the city. To-day Tammany, for the first time since Tweed's downfall, is confronted by the opposition of an almost united press, which in reality moulds public opinion. "I have been for the past year can-bushel, as well as contributions for the campaign fund.

The Secretary of the Democratic State Executive Committee to-day finished tabulating the returns received by the Committee from every election district in the State. A compilation of the vote was made, and Mr. Hill's campaign managers this forenoon gave out the following prophetic statement:

All expected contingencies being allowed for, giving the Probibition party its full share and counting the Independent vote as doubtful, it is calculated by the headquarters statisticians that Morton's majority in the State will not reach 40,000.

This side of the Harlem it is confidently expected that Mr. Hill will receive a purality of at least 45,000, whigh will carry him to the Gubernatorial chair in triumph.

These figures, according to John Boyd Thacher, are conservative and can be relied upon by persons who want to make election bets.

Candidate Hugh J. Grant came to State headquarters this morning and spent an hour studying the figures.

After that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest that Mr. Grant had a talk with Major Hinkley and assured him that the rest of the head of the had work is over the countries of the head o

Tammany Hall has already announced that its share of the had work is over, and late this afternoon the Executive Committee will meet to hear reports from the leaders as to the work accomplished and the outlook for victory or defeat. The Committee met yesterday, but the conversation was of an informal character. The meeting to-day will be the last before election.

Whatever the result of Tuesday's election may be, both Strong and Grant have demonstrated that they are "hustlers." Four and five meetings a night for each is nothing unusual. Last night Grant made only two speeches, claiming each time that he was the only Democratic candidate.

Loton Horton, the self-made and wealthy milk dealer of the upper west side. Is doing good work for the State Democracy in his district. He had a meeting of voters at his store, 272 Amsterdam avenue, last evening and enlisted new men for work on election day. One of the characteristics of this year's Democratic campaign is the secrecy with which all the business of the canvass is conducted at State head-quarters. The doors leading to the roms of Chairmen Thacher and Hinkley and Lieut. Gov. Sheehan are guarded by deputy sergeants-at-arms, and it is most difficult to obtain an audience with any of the campaign managers. It is amusing to note the curious glances cast at Richard Croker by the politicians at Democratic State head-quarters whenever the ex-boss pays a visit to the party managers. Even Senator Hill is not as much noticed. Croker's approach is invariably heralded by some one standing around, and the whispered words: "Here's Dick Croker's a signal for everybody within visual distance to turn and follow the retired chief with their eyes until he disappears from view.

The four baskets of peaches were valued at $1.50 each in the indictment, and the barrel of apples at $6. This suit has already cost the county several thousand dollars.

This is the last day's session of the October Grand Jury. It was stated by Assistant District-Attorney Battle today that no witness would be brought before it and that no new business would be taken up, with the exception of the case of the boy Harry Bennett, whom Mr. Battle would try to get liberated from the Tombs to-day.

The Grand Jury to-day will meet merely to bring indictments against ex-Ward Men Edward Glennon and George Smith, who were formerly connected with the Eldridge street station, and possibly against other police officials, and to attend to some unfinished business.

DALY BEATS SLAVIN.

Outpointed the Australian and Won on Repeated Fouls.

(By Associated Press.) BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Jim Daly, of Buffalo, and Jack Slavin, of Australia, ought seven rounds before about 1,000 people in the rooms of the Buffalo Athetic Club in this city last night. Daly was given the fight on a foul in the seventh round. The decision was very unsatisfactory. The affair was under he management of Billy Madden. The men were to have fought fifteen while Daly was manifestly out of condition. Before the bout the referee said that it had been agreed not to strike any blows in a breakaway after a clinch. This was contrary to the rules which the men were supposed to fight under and created some comment.

In the first round Daily landed fully a dozen blows and Slavin did not land once. It was evident, though, that Daily's blows lacked steam. In the following three rounds Dally again did most of the leading and landing. Several times in breaking away Slavin landed a blow, and the referee cautioned him that he was fighting foul.

The opportunities for new plays are multiplied, and as Menter lies and has been filling a notebook with pencillings at almost every game lier and has played, a few more tricks are likely to be seen at Springheld this season. Deland's plays received unmerited condemnation last year, because they were tried inopportunely. Bud generaleship was the chief cause of Harvard's defeat then. Imagine trying to gain five yards on a revolving wedge, far from the goal line on a fourth down, against last year's Yale team. This is what Capt. Waters attempted on one occasion.

The officials at the Yale-Harvard match this year, as announced unofficially, are Referee, 18TH ST, 242 Mr. Paul J. Daahlet, Lehigh, and umpire, Alexander Moffat, Princeton.

On one occasion His Highness, being slightly indisposed, had taken, with which he expressed himself delighted. He tendency to 'boil and fixz ready to blow your nose off,' seemed to him to 'scatter coolness,' and he seemed so much better after taking it that the doctor felt himself justified in joining a hunting party. Presently a horseman from the palace, in the confidential error ployment of the Grand Vizier, galloped to the said, "that His Highness has broken open your medicine chest and taken," to be seen at Springfield this sasoon. It is all the white powders and then all the blue."
